American Academy of Neurological and Orthopaedic Surgeons

Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to attend the 2008 Annual Scientific Meeting of the American Academy of Neurological and Orthopaedic Surgeons. This year the Academy will once again join the International College of Surgeons - United States Section as they celebrate their 70th Anniversary. The meeting will be held in Reno, Nevada at the Atlantis Hotel Casino Resort and Spa, where we will visit the Biggest Little City in the World.

Our conference will begin on Friday morning, June 6th with a special session developed by our friends at the American Fracture Association. That afternoon our Annual Board of Directors Meeting will be conducted and all members of the Academy are strongly encouraged to attend this important gathering. This is the perfect opportunity for you to learn a little bit more about the business of your Academy. By providing your valuable input, you can help the Academy to help you stay at the forefront of your profession. Volunteers are always needed and welcomed especially when it comes to maintaining and implementing future scientific activities and maintaining the standards and credibility of our entire continuing medical education program.

Offering 7.5 hours of AMA Category 1 Credit, the Academy's official scientific presentations will begin promptly at 8:00am on Saturday, June 7th and offer you an outstanding variety of presentations addressing the newest developments for the simplest to the most complex of procedures and treatment alternatives. We will once again also have poster presentations that will focus on a variety of interesting topics.

Academy members, make your plans now to join us in Reno. Come for a day or join the ICS and AFA to obtain even more CME credits. Scientific programming for ICS will begin on Thursday June 5th and if you register for the entire three day program you will have the opportunity to earn up to 24 hours of CME credit for one low fee.

We look forward to seeing you and welcoming you to Reno!

Sincerely,

Kazem Fathie, MD

Conflict of Interest and Off-Label Disclosure Policies

Conflict of Interest A potential conflict of interest exists when there is involvement between the speaker/presenter and any for-profit commercial firm or organization (FPC). This includes, but is not limited to, one or more of the following: 1) consultant, scientific advisory committee member, or lecturer for a FPC from which income is earned; 2) officer, board member, trustee, owner, or employee of a FPC; 3) stock or bond holdings in a FPC (investments entirely managed by a third party such as mutual funds and pension plans are excluded); 4) stock options held in a FPC.

Off-Label Disclosure (Including Generic Trade Names and Reporting Scientific Research) Presentations must give a balanced view of options. Faculty use of generic names will contribute to this impartiality. Presentations supported by a commercial entity reporting the results of scientific research must conform to the generally accepted standards of experimental design, data collection, and analysis. When an unlabeled use of a commercial product or an investigational use not yet approved for any purpose is discussed during an educational activity, it is required that the speaker disclose that the product is not labeled for the use under discussion or that the product is still investigational.

The Importance of Identification In order for the audience to evaluate information, analysis and opinions at presentations sponsored by the American Academy of Neurological and Orthopaedic Surgeons and or the International College of Surgeons-US Section it is crucial that the audience be informed of any aspect of a speaker's personal or professional affiliations that might affect the speaker's attitude or judgment regarding that speaker's presentation. For any presentation, the speakers will identify any aspect of personal or professional affiliations that may reasonably affect their views prior to their presentation(s) (for instance, affiliation with the manufacturer of a drug or device related to the topic). Additionally, faculty members are required to report if their presentations include discussion(s) of investigational products or products not labeled for use. All faculty members are required to comply with these policies and procedures and identify any potential conflicts and/or discussion of investigational products prior to presentation. Signed policy forms for all faculty members will be retained on file in the CME Office. An indication of a speaker's disclosure and potential conflict will appear in the on-site program after his or her name, along with information about the potential conflict and/or description of investigational product or experimental research.

If there is no potential conflict of interest and/or inclusion of investigational products or experimental research, only a presenter's name, title, and topic will appear. If a speaker has failed to complete and sign off on these policies, it will be noted and identified after his/her name and presentation title.

Disclaimer Registrants for this course understand that medical and scientific knowledge is constantly evolving and that the views and techniques of the faculty are their own and may reflect innovations and opinions not universally shared. The views and techniques of the faculty are not necessarily those of the AANOS and or ICS but are presented in this forum to advance scientific and medical education.

Accreditation The American Academy of Neurological and Orthopaedic Surgeons is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation The American Academy of Neurological and Orthopaedic Surgeons designates this continuing medical education activity for 7.5 hours of Category 1 Credit towards the AMA Physician's Recognition Award.

Who Should Attend This education activity is being designed for physicians in the fields of Neurological and Orthopaedic Surgery. Nurses, chiropractors, medical students, and residents will also benefit from this activity.
